Zoe Bigham

ICC Most Beautiful 2022

Zoe Bigham of Philadelphia was crowned Most Beautiful 2022 by Isabella Graves, the recipient of the 2021 title, at the conclusion of the Apr. 14 pageant at the Davis Event Center on the Fulton Campus. Approximately 50 contestants competed for the crown during the pageant, which was sponsored by the ICC Travel Tribe. Tornado warnings and the possibility of severe weather postponed the event, which was originally scheduled for the night before.

The top five in Itawamba Community College's Most Beautiful 2022 pageant include from left, Sydney Duggar of Guntown, fourth alternate; Emily Clowers of Pontotoc, second alternate; Zoe Bigham of Philadelphia, Most Beautiful; A'Jalauh Caldwell of Sherman, first alternate; and Abbey Montgomery of Pontotoc, third alternate.

Six ICC sophomores selected for All-Mississippi Academic Team

Staff Reports

Six Itawamba Community College sophomores have been named to the All-Mississippi Academic Team.

They include Haley Dean of Saltillo; Hannah Dean of Houston; Nelson Terron Finley of New Albany; Chelsea Fries, Rohan Patel, both of Tupelo; and Ely Ward of Mooreville.

Haley Dean is majoring in mechanical engineering at ICC where she is the vice president of scholarship for the Phi Theta Kappa Upsilon Sigma Chapter; member of the Honors College, Baptist Student Union, Science Club, Indian Delegation; president of the Student Government Association and a previous Orientation Leader. Dean is also a Supplemental Instructor and a student worker in the Telecommunications and Information Services Department. Along with her team, she was named a finalist in the Community College Innovation Challenge sponsored by the American Association of Community Colleges and National Science Foundation. She is a recipient of the STEM Summer Internship with Brown University and the Coca-Cola Leaders of Promise Scholarship. Her additional honors include Gold Scholar on Coca-Cola's 2022 Academic Team, ICC Hall of Fame and Miss ICC. Dean has been on the President's List every semester. She attends Harrisburg Baptist Church. Her parents are Leslie and Gary Dean.

Hannah Dean 's activities and honors at ICC include Phi Theta Kappa Beta Tau Sigma president and recipient of the Order of the Golden Key award. - See All-Mississippi Academic Team, page four.

Endings and new beginnings

As the academic school year comes to an end, we witness change in every facet of our lives. We might not notice at the time, but even the smallest alteration, turn and choice affect what we will do tomorrow.

Transferring sophomores attempt to slow down time and soak in all that ICC has to offer. As these students prepare to begin a new school year with a university or entering a career, I encourage you to take a moment to reminisce on your time at ICC. How has this college impacted you and how will you approach your next step?

Freshmen have the privilege of returning in the fall to continue their work at ICC. As a sophomore who is leaving, I advise returning freshmen to embrace change. This is your opportunity to make new friends, join clubs, dedicate time to a new project, make new goals and capture memories that will undoubtedly last a lifetime. If staying inside your residence hall was a habit that you want to change, make that change. If not asking questions in class negatively affected your GPA, make the first step with the new school year.

Incoming freshmen are about to spend their first days at ICC. Graduating from high school and coming to ICC is a big change. Adjusting to a different class schedule, being away from home and managing your time are just a few of the new experiences for these students. Acclimating to life at ICC is a process that all students go through and should embrace every minute. Becoming part of the ICC family is a blessing in disguise, and the mask will soon be removed for these students. By coming to annual events for the first time and learning the ins and outs of college life, incoming freshmen will soon be the new faces of ICC.

Out with the old, and in with the new. Teachers are accustomed to the constant routine off saying goodbye to students to whom they have grown close in the two years they have had them and happy to see the new faces that hold so much potential.

Every member of the ICC family, whether leaving, joining or staying, grow to love ICC more and more with each passing day. Grateful hearts and enriched minds walk around each location, thanks to the time and resources invested into each student.

As a transferring sophomore, I will hold on to every piece of advice, every enriching experience and every small moment that ICC has given me.

Moving on to my next step, I will share my ICC pride and embrace the changes ahead...After all, once an ICC Indian...always an ICC Indian!

The BEST do start here.

OPINION POLL

April is Community College Month

What do you think...

"What is the impact of community colleges?"

"Yes, I go to community college. No, it isn't because I couldn't get in anywhere else."
Unknown

"Community colleges are one of America's greatest social inventions, a gateway to the future for first-time students looking for an affordable college education and for mid-career students looking to get ahead in the workplace."
Barbara Mikulski

"Community colleges play an important role in helping people transition between careers by providing the retooling they need to take on a new career."
Barack Obama

"For decades, community colleges have been the backbone of American workforce training because they are nimble and closely attuned to local community needs. They are inherently positioned to be influential leaders of the movement for a sustainable economy."
Ed Begley Jr.

"With the changing economy, no one has lifetime employment. but community colleges provide lifetime employability."
Barack Obama

"Community colleges are the great American invention in terms of education."
Eduardo J. Padron

"Many of my students don't know that I'm the second lady of the United States...because, you know, it's a community college."

Community college month...a celebration

I'm sure you've all heard of Walt Disney, Tom Hanks, Nolan Ryan, Queen Latifah, Guy Fieri, Halle Berry, Clint Eastwood, Aaron Rodgers, Morgan Freeman, Steve Jobs, Eddie Murphy and Jackie Robinson, whose legendary career in baseball was celebrated within the last few days.

They are athletes, actors, famous chefs, business tycoons, and they are all famous. They have different backgrounds and separate pathways to success. But the have one thing in common...they all attended community colleges.

ICC has its share of "celebrities" who are listed among its alumni as well.

This month, ICC has joined with the other 1,042 two-year institutions of higher learning in commemorating Community College Month. It's been a time to reflect on our past and our future, expecially the last two years. COVID-19 has presented many challenges but also significant learning experiences. Among those are that ICC transitioned to virtual learning (almost overnight), worked remotely and continued to provide the services for which the College takes great pride.

Community colleges are a vital part of America's postsecondary education delivery system, serving almost half of the undergraduate students in the United States. Data from the Mississippi Institutions of Higher Learning shows that students who graduate from ICC and transfer to a university receive their degree with a grade point average above the state average and earn their college credentials with a higher GPA than students who begin their university studies their freshman year. ICC also ranks second in the state in producing more bachelor's degrees than any other community college, 12 short of first place, which is held by an institution that doubles our enrollment.

Community colleges, such as ICC, enable students to graduate or complete their studies with minimal or no debt. Since roughly 400,000 people in the state have an average student loan debt of $33,182 and monthly payment of $225, that is remarkable!

The education, which ICC provides, goes beyond traditional bricks and mortar with the significant impact of online instruction and makes possible the attainment of a degree any time, any place, anywhere! The success of all of our ICC students is paramount.

Public community colleges are a uniquely American educational model that was designed to guarantee access to affordable, high-quality higher education for all people.

Beginning in September, Itawamba Community will celebrate its 75th anniversary. Its story has meager beginnings. ICC"s facilities were built from second-hand lumber on a dusty cotton and corn field in Itawamba County, and its first students included 170 veterans who were enrolled in college trade training for carpentry, brick and stone masonry, automobile mechanics and intensive business training.

Over the years, ICC has evolved into a premier institution with three exceptional locations.

Like community colleges throughout the nation, ICC is unique, and we could possibly be a bit biased, but we think it's the best anywhere.

So while we all celebrate community college month, we take a few minutes to say thank you, ICC, and happy early birthday!!

Faculty SPOTLIGHT

Dr. Ashley Lancaster

Communications Division

FAMILY: Two sons, CJ Lancaster, 10; Zack Lancaster, 6; two Boston Terriers, Ace and Joey, and one cat, Licky Bit.

EDUCATION: Bachelor's degree in English from Mississippi State University, master's and doctorate, both in English, from the University of Mississippi

COURSES TAUGHT: Beginning English, English Composition I and II, American Literature I and II and honors classes

TEACHING EXPERIENCE: Taught as a graduate student at the University of Mississippi; Santa Fe Community College (Gainesville, Fla.); Mississippi State University; Itawamba Community College (in her fourteenth year)

POSITIVE ASPECTS OF TEACHING: "I really love teaching. I love figuring out how to introduce more skills to students, and it is incredibly rewarding when students finally feel comfortable writing in paragraph, an essay or just anything that makes them feel some confidence in writing. A lot of students approach their English classes with apprehension because they think they are 'bad at writing' or they 'hate to read.' If I can help a student see value in writing and literature, then I have succeeded at my job. It's a bonus when a student applies something we read in class to their own lives. That makes me happy."

NEGATIVE ASPECTS OF TEACHING: "My answer is not really a 'negative aspect' because I think my answer actually helps me in my classes. I never feel like I have mastered teaching anything. I am constantly trying to learn new ideas and teach in new ways. This is why every semester I reread all the literature I assign students. This is why I am constantly reading new books and new journal articles. I also like to adjust all of my assignments to best fit the needs of my classes. I also try to take an online class or seminar at least once a semester. I am never done learning. Sometimes, this exhausts me, but it also excites me."

ADVICE TO STUDENTS: "Go have fun in college. You have to go to class and do your assignments, of course. Don't skip the learning part of college. But, also, don't skip the fun part of college. Meet new people. Try new activities. The more you try, the easier it will be to decide what you want to do once you are out of college. And - if you are able - get in a car with our friends and just drive and see what happens."

itawamba Community College formally reopened the W.O. Benjamin Fine Arts Center on the Fulton Campus last Wednesday following an extensive renovation project, which began last fall. The decades-old 24,000-square-foot facility had not received any major renovations since it was built in 1978. With upgrades to almost every inch of the facility, the state-of-the-art auditorium, lecture space, exhibit hall and lobby have been modernized. Phase two of the project will be sound, and phase three, the entrance. The renovations were designed by McCarty Architects.

Registration continues for summer, fall semesters

Staff Reports

Freshmen and returning students who are currently enrolled at ICC are reminded to register for 2022 summer and fall semester classes before the end of the semester to ensure that they have the classes they want at the time that fits their personal schedule.

Students who have not registered must see their adviser before final exams begin to plan a schedule and register.

In addition, incoming freshmen have the opportunity to participate in upcoming orientation sessions.

They include Apr. 29, 8:30 a.m., Fulton; May 6, 8:30 a.m., Fulton; June 7, 1 p.m., Fulton; June 8, 1 p.m., Fulton; June 9, 1 p.m., Fulton; June 21, 1 p.m., Tupelo; June 23, 5 p.m., Tupelo; July 19, 1 p.m., Fulton; July 21, 8:30 a.m., Fulton and 5 p.m., Tupelo.

ICC offers forklift training

Registration is underway at the Itawamba Community College Belden Center for an Enhanced Forklift Operator Training class that is scheduled for May 5 from 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m.

The class will enable individuals to receive hands-on training on three different classifications of forklifts: Standup Rider (Class 1), Order Selector (Class 2) and LP Gas Powered Sit-Down Forklift (Class 4).

Topics include the requirements of the OSHA Powered Industrial Truck Regulation 29 CFR 1910.178, safe-powered industrial truck operation and how forklifts work, identification of operating hazards as well as the general principles of safe operation and how to properly inspect and maintain a forklift.

Cost is $85.

To register or for more information, contact Becky Kelly at (662) 407-1500 or email rakelly@iccms.edu.

Catalyst

ICC's Phi Theta Kappa chapters were represented at 'Catalyst 22' in Denver recently. Left, Bradley Howard receives the Paragon award, advisers and members pose on the first day; and Dr. Michelle Sumerel is presented the distinguished college administrator award.

Graduates reminder!

Staff Reports

Graduates who are participating in one of three commencement ceremonies, May 13, are reminded that they must enroll in a Commencement Canvas course and complete it prior to April 29 since there will be no rehearsals.

The course, which is currently available, includes instructions for the day of the ceremony and how graduates will receive their diploma, pick up the cap and gown and properly wear regalia. It will also cover participation in the ceremony and other helpful information, according to Dr. Bobby Solomon, registrar and director of admissions.

At the conclusion of the course, participants must complete an exit survey and select the bookstore where they will pick up their cap and gown.

Nominations needed

Nominations are being accepted for the 2022 Alumnus of the Year and Athletic Hall of Fame inductees at ICC through Aug. 1.

They will be honored during homecoming activities this fall at the Fulton Campus.

Criteria for selection as the Alumnus of the Year included attended ICC/IJC and must have successfully completed at least one semester as a full-time student five years prior to the current school year and exhibited merit and achievement, which have brought fame and honor to either his/her community or the College. Nominations can be made by any member of the ICC faculty, staff and any alumnus of the College.

ICC's Athletic Hall of Fame honors former athletes, coaches or individuals who have excelled or who have made major contributions to intercollegiate athletics while attending or employed by ICC. Criteria to be considered include out of school for at least 10 years, accomplishments after graduation, support of ICC after graduation and attendance at induction ceremonies or if deceased, a family member must attend. Two individuals will be inducted.

Forms are available online at www.iccms.edu/alumni . For more information, email alumni@iccms.edu.

Sponsors are Jake Hartfield, director of recruitment and orientation; Katelynn Stidham, recruiter; and Michael Holloway, recruitment coordinator/adviser.

Yearbook distribution set this week beginning at the Fulton Campus

Staff Reports

As activities have returned to normal, the members of Itawamba Community College's yearbook staff have worked to highlight the year, and they will share the 2022 edition during distribution periods beginning today at the Fulton Campus.

Adviser C..J. Adams said that the first period will be today during the Pit Stop Cookout at the Crane Pavilion at the Fulton Campus from 11:30 a.m.-1 p.m.

He said that additional times will be announced for both the Tupelo Campus and the Belden Center.

For students who miss the pick-up dates, books will be available in the Community Relations Department at the Fulton Campus. Adams said that in cases where students cannot work out a pick-up date, they can contact him at cjadams@iccms.edu.

Yearbooks are free to students who are in good standing, Adams said.

Due to limited availability, books will be distributed on a first-come, first-served basis.

Freshmen who are interested in joining next year's staff should contact Adams. Positions are limited, and scholarships may be available.

If you haven't already... start final exam study today

ANNA GREGORY
Staff Writer

This year has been an odd experience for most ICC students in the transition back to being as normal as possible after COVID-19. This includes both in-class experiences and study habits.

Final exams are approaching. so in preparation, Rachel Steele, coordinator of instructional support services, has provided insight on how to navigate the coming weeks to make them easier.

Regarding study tips, she said that it's not something you can get around or make easier, it's just something "we have to do. ICC instructors have put AMAZING study tools in the hands of students." She strongly suggests that the information that has been provided by instructors to study will ensure students are fully prepared.

In addition, Steele also shared tips she had for avoiding distractions. She said that phones are one of the biggest distractions. According to Steele, putting phones on silent and out of view can be one of the easiest ways to avoid letting minds drift from the tasks at hand.

Steele also said it is important to keep mental health as a priority during finals week. Her biggest suggestion was "If you find yourself overwhelmed, just do the next right thing." She explained that when students are trying to focus on so many things at one time, it can be overwhelming. One way to combat this feeling is to focus on one manageable task at a time.

Lastly, regarding study habits, she recommended, "It could be helpful for you to set boundaries with your friends and family ahead of time." She explained that many times our friends and family don't realize how busy students are if they don't physically tell them. She said that communication is the easiest way to avoid unnecessary friction at home or with friends during finals week.

Examinations can be stressful for anyone, but as Steele said, be sure to take advantage of all the tools provided by ICC and its instructors to ensure an opportunity for better exam results.

ICC students place in state art competition

Staff Reports

Three Itawamba Community College students are among award winners in the 2022 MCCAIA State Student Art Competition hosted by Jones College in Ellisville.

They include Kaitlin Stegall of Pontotoc, first place in drawing for "Plum Tea" and honorable mention in drawing for "Caleb's Sunset;" Mia Coggin of Nettleton, third place in painting for "Cooper Dyes His Hair" and honorable mention in graphic design for "Eye Eye Captive;" and Elliana Parker of Saltillo, honorable mention in 3D design for "Patterned Gogh."

More than 170 pieces of art were featured from students competing in eight categories from painting and mixed media to drawing, 2D design, 3D design, digital/computer art, photography, printmaking and ceramics.

Additional ICC students who participated include Taylor Braxton of Amory; Bayleigh Caldwell of Caledonia; Olivia Jones of Mantachie; Michaela Pearson of Pontotoc; Camille Campbell and Ana Chambers, both of Tupelo.

ICC students competed with full-time students from Copiah-Lincoln Community College, East Central Community College, East Mississippi Community College, Hinds Community College, Holmes Community College, Jones College, Meridian Community College, Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College, Northwest Mississippi Community College and Southwest Mississippi Community College.

All entries were on display throughout March.

The winners received ribbons and cash awards at the show's awards presentation and reception, Apr. 1, at 9:30 a.m. in the Eula Bass Lewis Art Gallery.

Residence hall check-out

What you need to know...

Staff Reports

At the end of the spring semester, resident students must turn their attention toward checking out of the residence halls.

To assist residents with the process, there are a few quick reminders:

*All students must check out after their last final exam by making an appointment with their hall director or resident assistant.

*To officially check out, students must sign the inventory sheet and turn in their key.

*All students must be out of the residence halls by 5 p.m., May 6.

*The room must be completely clean and empty of any personal items.

*Improper check out or failing to turn in a key will result in an improper check out fine.

Any students who neither claimed nor reclaimed rooms during the designated period will not have a room in the fall.

Instructions and reminders are normally emailed to resident students, according to Kaitlyn Stanfield, assistant to the housing director and vice president of student services.

For more information, email housing@iccms.edu or visit the office in the David C. Cole Student Services Building on the Fulton Campus.

This fall, students will move in to Magnolia Hall, which is being completed at the Fulton Campus. The hall will provide an opportunity for 246 additional students to experience the college with on-campus housing.

Freeman wins Indians Got Talent

SARA MOORE
Staff Writer

Every spring, ICC hosts Indians Got Talent, a version of the famous America's Got Talent, and the 2022 winner was Sydney Freeman, who sang "Never Enough" from the popular movie, "The Greatest Showman."

Eight individuals, including six singers and two comedians participated in the Mar. 28 auditions. Although four performers and a wild card were supposed to advance to the next round, the judges selected two wild cards.

Performing in the second round were singers Jaderious Wilson, Gavin Lane, Micha Ellis, Lily Phifer and comedian Cael Andrada.

JUST A REMINDER...

Review lockdown procedures

ICC's faculty, staff and students are urged to review campus lockdown procedures.

"The procedures are meant to be very simple because at the point of a lockdown, the major concern is the safety of all of the individuals in the campus community," said Dr. Brad Boggs, vice president of student services.

Notifications will be communicated via ICC ALERT, email and the Emergency Information Web page.

Upon notification of campus lockdown, everyone must react immediately.

The procedures include

1) Lock all doors and windows.

2) Close all blinds.

3) Turn off lights.

4) Use room furnishings to barricade doors and as protection.

5) Everyone should sit on the floor, away from doors and windows.

6) Make no noise.

7) Remain in lockdown until it is cleared with a notice via ICC ALERT or the police/administrator gives te ALL CLEAR code.

In addition, these are procedures in the event of severe weather conditions or evacuation.

Individuals should check ICC's website, www.iccms.edu, for information. It's located under Campus Safety on the home page.

Sign up for ICC ALERT

ICC provides a mass notification system called ICC ALERT.

Students, faculty and staff are encouraged to participate in the free service.

ICC ALERT has been utilized for inclement weather situations when classes and offices were closed due to snow and icing conditions and when storms threatened the area.

To sign up to receive emergency messages through ICC ALERT: 1) Log on to the myTribe portal using your name and password; 2) Click ICC ALERT system in the link section on the bottom right; 3) Log in with your same username and password as myTribe to add/update your information.

For assistance with technical issues, contact the TIS Help Desk at (662) 862-8295 or via email at helpdesk@iccms.edu.

Litter-free

Everyone is reminded to use trash receptacles for litter. It's up to all of us to show our pride by ensuring that all three locations are litter-free.

No noise

Unnecessary noise is banned at Itawamba Community College, including loud music, yelling and screaming.

Students who are found guilty of noise violations will be fined, and the fine will double with each successive violation.

Making music

Itawamba Community College's symphonic band and wind ensemble present their spring concert Thursday night at the W.O. Benjamin Fine Arts Center auditorium.

Transferring students have three transcript options

Staff Reports

Students who are transferring at the end of the spring semester have three options to order a transcript: internet, in-person and phone.

According to Dr. Bobby Solomon, director of admissions and registrar, transcripts are important because they document the official records of the student's academic performance: major, courses taken, degree and cumulative grade point average.

If students don't have holds or other issues that prevent the registrar's office from issuing the transcript, it will be sent within 24 hours, Solomon said.

"If the college where the student is applying has a deadline prior to the current semester, the student should request his or her transcript to meet the deadline. Students should be mindful that the transcript issued prior to the end of the semester will not include the final grades for currently enrolled courses. Therefore, a final transcript will be required after the in-progress transcript is sent.

Online is the quickest and most convenient way to order a transcript. Students can submit a transcript request 24 hours a day, 7 days a week by using their ICC login and password. The steps include 1) Sign in to myTribe (https://mytribe.iccms.edu), click on the School Services tab, click on Student Services, click on Student Records, click on order official transcript.

Current students can also request a transcript in a sealed envelope at the service counter of the admissions/registrar's office located in the David C. Cole Student Services Building on the Fulton Campus. Office hours are 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. on the days that the college is open. Those who visit in person must have a picture ID. If a third person will pick up the transcript, that person must have written permission to release the transcript. Payment must be made upon transcript receipt.

Students who want to place an order over the phone my do so by calling Credentials, Inc. at (847) 716-3005 and using the TranscriptPlus® order system. Operators are available Monday through Thursday from 7 a.m.-7 p.m. Central Time and on Friday from 7 a.m.-5 p.m. Central Time. There is a $10 fee for using this service plus an additional $10 surcharge for telephone requests. Users must use a credit card and have access to either an email account or fax machine in order to provide a written authorization for release of the transcript.

Transcripts cost $10.

ICC's Lady Indians drop hard-fought match to Gulf Coast

Staff Reports

The No. 23 Lady Indians battled with No. 17 Gulf Coast in the NJCAA Region 23 tournament quarterfinals, Apr. 21, but dropped a 5-2 decision in the hard-fought match.

The Lady Indians led 2-1 after doubles as Martina Coghetto and Gaia del Sordo won No. 1 doubles, 8-1, and Madelyn Angle and Sydney Ostrander took No. 2 doubles, 8-5.

Gulf Coast picked up singles wins in No. 1, No. 3 and No. 4 and took No. 5 on a retirement.

The four singles wins gave Gulf Coast the 5-2 victory, and the Lady Indians finished the season, 8-11.

ICC's Hamilton, Mosley sign with Mississippi Valley State

Staff Reports

Itawamba Community College sophomores Walter Hamilton and Tyronn Mosley have signed to continue their basketball careers at Mississippi Valley State University.

The duo helped the Indians to an NJCAA Region 23 Tournament appearance and to a 10-12 record.

Hamilton, a Potts Camp native, played in 21 games, and the 6'0" forward averaged 6.9 points per game and 7.1 rebounds per game. He had a team-high 150 total rebounds and led the Indians with 35 blocks. Hamilton also had 12 steals and three assists.

Mosley averaged 11.3 points per game and shot 46.7 percent from the field n 21 games played. The 6'5" guard from Chicago, Ill. scored 238 points and led the team in free throws, shooting 75 percent from the charity stripe. Mosely also grabbed 100 rebounds and 28 steals.

The duo will join the Delta Devils who compete in the Southwestern Athletic Conference (SWAC).
